Marin Transit is seeking feedback from all riders in the form of a short on-line survey. The information gathered through the survey will assist the District in the evaluation of our current fare assistance programs, and identification of the benefits, challenges, and implications of providing further reductions to our fares. We want to ensure that adjustments to our fares and fare assistance programs address the needs and concerns of our riders. The survey is open from Wednesday, May 19 through June 2, 2021.

As a token of appreciation riders completing the survey will have a chance to win free monthly passes.

The survey is available in English and Spanish languages and can be accessed at Marin Transit Customer Fare Payment Survey. The survey will also be posted on our website as well as Marin Transit Facebook and Twitter pages.

We appreciate your support in helping the District to spread the word, and sharing the survey information with your constituents.

Mill Valley filmmaker's documentary keeps African American ranger's stories alive

Carl Bidleman didn't know what he was getting into when he and his "Bay Area Open Roads" partner, longtime television journalist Doug McConnell, walked into the Rosie the Riveter/World War II Home Front National Historical Park in December 2013. All they knew was that the park and the Rosie the Riveter Trust had a ranger they wanted to highlight, an African American woman who became a ranger at age 85.

After A Year Of Staying Close To Home, Travel Has Become An Emotional Journey

When Jennie Larson finally became eligible to receive the COVID-19 vaccine, she jumped into action and added three big events to her calendar: Her two vaccine appointments and a trip to Atlanta, Georgia from her home in Washington, D.C. Exactly two weeks and one day after receiving her second Moderna shot, and thus fully immunized, she'll be boarding a plane for the first time in over a year. "I have some loose plans to meet up with some friends, but mostly I plan on a quick solo weekend trip just enjoying the fact that I can travel again," she tells Refinery29.

Photographer Reveals the Power of Perspective With Playful Compositions

Many tourists use specific angles, scale, and depth to take funny photos next to landmarks (think Leaning Tower of Pisa). However, photographer Lisbon-based Hugo Suíças uses forced perspective photography in his own unique way. He creates images that turn ordinary landscapes and everyday objects into playful compositions, each with a different narrative.

Hummingbirds routinely hit 9Gs like it's no big deal

Their courtship flights bend the barriers of physics in nature.
