

Happy Tuesday, Villagers

A Note About Daily Tips. As California opens up, we feel we have fulfilled our mission of providing some daily inspirations, news on virtual events, and submissions from members of the community to add some entertainment to your days during the pandemic. Beginning next week, we will be suspending Daily Tips and, instead, publishing a weekly wrapup each Friday at 9 am.

Dear Ann Landers.... For decades, renown advice columnist Ann Landers answered countless letters from lovelorn teens, confused couples and a multitude of others in need of advice. Late on a 1975 night in Landers' Chicago apartment, an ironic twist of events confront her with the looming deadline for a column dealing with a new kind of heartbreak, her own. As she shares her struggles to complete the column with us, we learn as much about ourselves as we do about the wise, funny, no-nonsense woman whose daily dialogue with America helps to shape the social and sexual landscape of the last half century.

~ Common entertainment included playing cards. However, there was a tax levied when purchasing playing cards but only applicable to the Ace of Spades. To avoid paying the tax, people would purchase 51 cards instead. Yet, since most games require 52 cards, these people were thought to be stupid or dumb because they weren't playing with a full deck.

100 Architecture Terms That Will Help You Describe Buildings Better

Are you an architecture fan? Whether you are an architectural designer yourself or just an architecture lover, you may have noticed that there are a lot of specific and technical terms that come with talking about buildings. That is why My Modern Met has put together a helpful list of 100 architecture terms to help you describe buildings better.

Enormous Sculptures Rooted in Nature Take Over Arboretum

South African artist Daniel Popper debuted his first major exhibition in the United States—and his largest ever—at The Morton Arboretum in Illinois. Human+Nature is a sprawling exhibition that sees five large-scale sculptures by Popper invading the 1,700-acre arboretum. Ranging anywhere from 15 to 26 feet tall, the sculptures “inspire awe as they connect people and trees.”
