

Happy Wednesday, Villagers

Please send along your suggestions for materials to add to the daily tips. We're always looking for good content. And visit our website for more information about our organization and programs.

Wednesday: WEEKLY 30 MIN. PUBLIC HEALTH UPDATE; 11:30-12

Thursday: JFCS EVENT. 4-5

Calling all Sausalito Village artists!

As we are all aware, we cannot exhibit in the library this year, but whether or not you have participated in our art show before, we are looking for interested participants for an online exhibit. The show traditionally has been November 1 through early December and we'd like to stick to those dates. We'd also like to have an opening 'reception' via Zoom where the artists can talk about their work.

Teddie Hathaway is organizing the exhibit, so please contact her if you are interested. Her email is teddie@teddiehathaway.com.

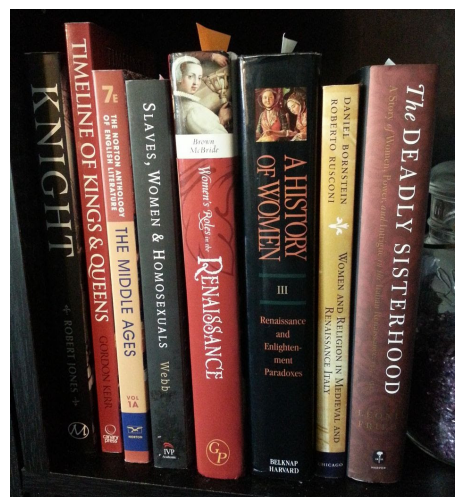

Michael Lewis has agreed to be our photographer again this year – either shooting your work through your window with a long lens or perhaps in your yard – whatever makes you most comfortable. We can work that out on an individual basis later.

So, don't hesitate to get involved. This has been a very popular event that our entire Sausalito community came out to enjoy and support and we don't want to disappoint them this year – we all need something to look forward to!

This event is open to Sausalito Village members and volunteers.

4 Essential West Coast Road Trips

You may have heard the boastful phrase, “West Coast, Best Coast” from those who love to brag about their Pacific Ocean-facing backyards. Washington, Oregon, and California (and don’t forget about Canada and Alaska!) certainly have plenty of reasons to gloat, and it becomes even more obvious to those who venture on road trips up and down this glorious coast. It’s certainly hard to dismiss the superior claim when you see all the beauty of the west coast, but is it really better than the rest of the country’s regions?

We’ll leave the final decision up to you. In the meantime, these are some of the region’s best road trips to give you a little food for thought.
