Ponderisms

- If poison passes its expiration date, is it more poisonous or is it no longer poisonous?
- Which letter is silent in the word "Scent," the S or the C?
- Do twins ever realize that at least one of them is unplanned?

- Every time you clean something, you just make something else dirty.
- The word "swims" upside-down is still "swims"
- 100 years ago everyone owned a horse and only the rich had cars.

Ditch the Car in These Walkable Cities in the U.S.

Some vacations are all about relaxation, parking yourself on the beach or a pool chair and not moving until it's time to go home. But other vacations are about getting out and exploring on your own two feet. There are plenty of benefits to walking as much as you can while you're on vacation. You can save money, help the environment and work off all that food you're sure to be eating. Going by foot also helps you slow down and discover new corners of a city beyond their tourist attractions. Some cities, however, are a little easier to walk than others. Studies conducted by Smart Growth America and Walk Score rank the most walkable cities in the U.S., and we're showing off our favorite picks for where you can stretch your legs and see the sights.

Miners in Western Australia have struck gold in a new way after discovering a massive meteorite crater that geologists estimate to be 100 million years old. Located near the Goldfields mining town of Ora Banda, this three-mile crater is now one of the largest in the world.

"How To Survive a Wildfire"

Join us on this Sunday, September 20, to watch this important webinar! We would like for all members to see this important webinar - either on your own or join us in a group.

The video provides a very good background for an important Village Emergency Preparedness Cluster Meeting we will have at the end of the month with the focus on Evacuation Zones and Evacuation Routes for each of our SV Clusters.

The video is available to watch independently online anytime by clicking
