DEATH CAFÉ: Our Second Virtual Version

WHEN: Monday, October 26, 5:00 PM

Co-facilitated by Jim van Buskirk and Annie Dorsey

After a short series of successful Death Cafés (two co-sponsored with the Sausalito Library) that generated significant interest, we're on again! As many of you will remember, the Cafés involve tea, cake and a safe, respectful space where you can feel comfortable sharing questions, curiosity, fears, beliefs and stories about any and all aspects of death, grief, mourning and bereavement. Humor and laughter are a hallmark of these gatherings. Depressing they are not! Come join us for a guaranteed stimulating time, and BYO cake, tea, and/or cocktails. Please register online, and the zoom link will be provided shortly before the event.

Jim Van Buskirk has been co-hosting Death Cafes for over four years, during which time he has also been compiling an annotated bibliography of books and films dealing with death and dying.

Annie Dorsey has a Masters degree in Gerontology and was a hospice volunteer for 11 years.

Shortly before her death in 1965, one of the New Deal's most famous photographers, Dorothea Lange, spoke at UC Berkeley. "Someone showed me photos of migrant farmworkers they had just taken," she said. "They look just like what I made in the '30s." Only the clothing and the architecture has changed. "Her work could not be more relevant to what's happening today," says Lange biographer Linda Gordon.
